TE Connectivity Statement on Corporate Responsibility

TE Connectivity (“TE”) is committed to conducting business in responsible ways that provide an advantage to its employees, customers, and shareholders.

TE has extensive programs addressing environmental responsibility and workplace safety, labor practices, ethics, and other matters important to its stakeholders. Each year TE responds to the CDP and releases a corporate responsibility report. TE also is honored to have been listed on the Dow Jones Sustainability Index North America for seven consecutive years.

TE is familiar with the principles of the Electronic Industry Citizen Coalition (EICC), Social Accountability International's SA8000 standard, Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and other customer codes of conduct. TE's Guide to Ethical Conduct includes programs, policies and practices that embody the principles set forth by these organizations. Through these efforts, TE was named a World's Most Ethical Company by Ethisphere Institute for the fourth consecutive year.

To reinforce TE's policies on human rights, TE became a signatory of the United Nations Global Compact in 2011 and committed to communicating progress on the ten principles, which align with the core values of TE Connectivity. TE also promotes its Supplier Social Responsibility Program, which includes the TE Connectivity Guide to Supplier Social Responsibility and an active, comprehensive review and audit of our suppliers and their social responsibility activities including the TE Connectivity Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement for our fiscal year 2018.

More information about TE's principles and our commitment to being a responsible corporate citizen can be found at www.te.com/responsibility or by contacting us at TECorporateResponsibility@te.com.

Sincerely,
