BIOGRAPHY

John S. Jenkins, Jr.

Executive Legal Advisor

John S. Jenkins Jr. served as Executive Vice President and General Counsel of TE Connectivity from October 2012 through November 9, 2026. He currently serves as Executive Legal Advisor and will continue in that role until his retirement in March 2027, supporting a smooth transition to the company's new EVP and Chief Legal Officer.

While in his General Counsel role, John was responsible for the company's global legal, compliance, corporate governance, government affairs, intellectual property, security and risk management, and corporate social responsibility activities. He was also responsible for bringing TE's industry-leading connectivity solutions, engineering, and operations expertise to the emerging markets with focus on India, China, and South America. He joined TE Connectivity in October 2012. A proud US Navy veteran, John, served as the executive sponsor for the TE Veterans ERG, a global community of employees championing initiatives that support and advocate for veterans and their families.

Prior to joining TE Connectivity, John was with Tyco International for ten years and was the Vice President, Corporate Secretary, and International General Counsel. John was responsible for the Board of Directors activities, securities and capital markets transactions and reporting, mergers and acquisitions, executive compensation, global procurement, real estate, and tax planning.

Prior to 2003, John worked as a litigator with McGuireWoods, LLP. John began his career in 1987 as an Officer in the United States Navy, and served as a judge advocate both as Military Prosecutor and Senior Defense Counsel, and finally as Legislative Counsel to the Secretary of the Navy.

John earned his law degree from George Washington University with high honors and his Bachelor’s degree from the University of Virginia.
